

Fun ideas to Support Your Child's Learning at Home – Number 2

The team at Chelwood have thought of some fun activities that you might like to try at home. Don't worry about completing them all.... just choose the one's that most appeal to you and your child.... we will send you new ideas every couple of weeks! Let us know which ones you have enjoyed! You can email Amanda to share what you have done and she will reply to you! amanda@chelwood.lewisham.sch.uk

Make a picture, poster or a letter for a friend who you miss at the moment. Pop it in the post on your daily walk! This will let them know that you are thinking about them!	Make a tent by putting sheets or blankets over a table. Snuggle up with a good picture book and enjoy this quiet space.	Teach your family one of the action songs that we sing at Chelwood! There are some familiar faces sharing these on our you tube channel if you get stuck!!
Can you turn a wooden spoon, stick or sock into a puppet? If others in your family also have a go at this, you can use them to make up stories!	Can you help someone in your family prepare a meal or snack? Chopping, slicing, spreading, grating and peeling will all help to develop your finger muscles to support your writing later.	Can you make a simple drum kit using pots and pans and kitchen utensils? Have fun making up different patterns of sound. Can your family listen to your pattern and play it back?
Get creative with a roll of masking tape on the floor! Can you make a tightrope for you and your family to balance along? What about a maze?	Gather some sticks and twigs when you are out for your daily walk. Can you turn your sticks into a stickman? Can you create a stick family?	Gather a few soft toys and enjoy an inside picnic!
Can you make up a few exercises to help keep you fit while staying at home? Can you teach these to your family and encourage them to stay fit too?	Gather up some empty plastic bottles and some different sized spoons and enjoy some filling and pouring at the sink or in the bath. If you add some fallen petals or blossom that you have gathered on your daily walk, this will be even more fun!	Can you create a picture by laying out and positioning objects that you have found at home? This could include buttons, sticks, lids, paper clips, pegs, spoons and ribbons etc. Take a phot of your creation and email it to Amanda! She will email you back!
